

AK4W RGB STRIP

Functional and stylish: The AK4W RGB Strip has plenty of space for modern hardware, room for up to eleven fans, and a tempered-glass side panel that provides a clear view of the installed hardware inside. The front panel has an integrated RGB strip along the base of the air-permeable mesh grille, providing a visual highlight in 16.7 million colors. On the top panel, the case is rounded off with up-to-date ports for a wide range of mobile and peripheral devices.

Features

FULL RGB ILLUMINATION

Apart from the front panel with its air-permeable mesh grille and RGB strip, the AK4W RGB Strip also has a side panel made of tempered glass to showcase the hardware build and the atmospheric illumination inside.

STRONG AIRFLOW

Four 120 mm fans are already pre-installed in the AK4W RGB Strip – three behind the front panel and one 120 mm RGB PWM fan on the rear panel. Up to eleven fans will find room in the case.

DUAL-RADIATOR SUPPORT

In addition to conventional fans, the AK4W RGB Strip also supports water-cooling solutions. If required, two radiators with up to 360 mm can be operated simultaneously.

ALSO FOR BTF MAINBOARDS

Apart from conventional mini-ITX, micro-ATX or ATX mainboards, the AK4W RGB Strip is also compatible with almost all BTF formats on the market.

GOOD CONNECTIVITY

On the top panel near to the front of the case, a modern TRRS and USB-C port are available for a wide range of mobile and peripheral devices. In addition, a controller provides the connection and operation of up to four RGB LED components while also serving as a hub for up to four PWM fans.

PLENTY OF SPACE FOR HARDWARE

Thanks to a cleverly designed interior, the AK4W RGB Strip can also accommodate large graphics cards of up to 41 cm. The mounting is conveniently supported by a pre-installed graphics card holder. In addition, a CPU cooler with a height of up to 17 cm can be installed, as well as a power supply unit with a length of up to 23.5 cm. And there is installation space for up to two 3.5" HDDs or four 2.5" SSDs.
